

PINKHAM IS NOT ASKED TO SPEAK AT BIG MEETING

But He Will Be Welcome and May Talk if He Wants, Says Democratic Chairman

Governor Pinkham has not been invited to speak at the Democratic rally and ratification meeting at Aala park tomorrow evening. But he will be welcomed should he attend the gathering and will be given an opportunity to speak if he so desires.

This, says Prof. W. A. Bryan, chairman of the territorial central committee, about sums up the situation as far as the chief executive's connection with the ratification rally is concerned.

Arrangements for the rally, which will begin at 7:30 o'clock, have been completed. The first half of the program will be given over to brief addresses by the following: Attorney J. Lightfoot, "Four Years of Democracy"; Harry Irwin, "Our Democratic Platform"; C. J. McCarthy, "The History of Democracy in Hawaii"; H. Trent, "The Party and Its Candidates." Various candidates will be asked to address the meeting, their talks to form the second part of the program. It is expected that Lincoln L. McCandless, candidate for delegate, will be the first speaker.

The so-called "harmony committee," which recently visited Governor Pinkham and secured his views regarding the Democratic party, was to have met last night to consider a letter from the chief executive, now in the hands of Police Officer M. H. Sanders. It is understood that the meeting was not held.

This is the letter which Governor Pinkham promised the "harmony committee" he would write as a follow-up of the conference. Chairman Bryan says he understands the letter will be handed to him, and that he may call a meeting of the territorial central committee, at which time it will be read.

The letter is said to contain statements by the governor similar to those published in the Star-Bulletin two days after his conference with the "harmony committee."

PARTY LINES RAISED OVER EXPENDITURES

It is unprofitable to ship goods to the United States at a loss in order to compete with and drive out of the market goods of American manufacture that cannot be produced at the same low figure that they are produced in Europe.

Another provision in the new bill that will give an impetus to the development of the chemical industry in the United States is the increased duty on all dyestuffs manufactured in foreign countries. With the beginning of the European war the United States was confronted with a serious problem by a threatened shortage of dyestuffs. The price of these materials has reached a figure never dreamed of before. Under the provisions of the new schedule American manufacturers of dyestuffs will be enabled to compete with European manufacturers.

Blacklist Boomerang. Probably the most drastic feature of the new bill is the now famous "retaliation" clause. This section of the act has been the cause of endless debate in both houses of Congress and as it finally came from the committee conference it is a complete triumph for the administration.

Under this provision the president is given power to authorize officers at all ports to refuse clearance papers to foreign-owned vessels which seek to discriminate against any American manufactured goods. The bill specifically states that clearance is to be refused to all ships which refuse to take shipments of American-made goods for any other reason than lack of cargo space.

Following the passage of the revenue bill a resolution was passed by both branches of Congress to adjourn the present session at 10 o'clock today.

BASEBALL STARS WILL MEET TONIGHT AT Y. M.

Y. M. C. A. baseball stars will play the final game of the indoor series this evening at the Games hall. The Washingtons and Athletics have won one game each, and both teams have been strengthened by a number of stars. Nearly every player on the teams has played in the Oahu League, and the contest tonight for the championship will be the biggest feature of the year in indoor baseball.

The petitioners are: John P. Erdman, Solomon Moepono, Albert Kane, Samuel Kabele, John J. Kaleo, S. W. Kaui and Henry K. Poepe.

BOY SCOUT CAMP WILL END WITH 'DOIN'S' TONIGHT

A complex system of code words, 60 in number, has been compiled for the wig-wag and semaphore signal tests. Cup Events Yesterday.

Yesterday's events for the cup consisted of Kim's game and scout pace events, in which there has been keen interest. Kim's game competition consisted of a memory test, that of looking at a table on which were placed 50 camp articles and each team was given a two-minute view of the table, writing down the articles later. Troop I's team of Scouts Wilder and Pratt were able to name 46 articles. The other troops scored in the following order: Troop V, 45; Troop II, 43; Troops VI and XIII, 41; Troop VII, 40; Troops IV and IX, 38; Troops VIII and XII, 37; Troop XV, 36, and Troop XVII, 34.

A Scientific Discovery. The spirit of the athletic prowess of scoutdom led to a scientific discovery on the part of the hospital detachment under Edgar S. Barry. To win the race only one thing was lacking—some rubdown. So naturally the hospital had it. Scoutmaster Barry had met every emergency before and would not fail this time. So he took an inventory of the hospital effects and found only cotton gauze bandages, toothache drops, castor oil and cough drops. The hospital detachment now refuses to give out the prescription but, suffice it to say, Ikeole won the race, anyway.

Troop II are the baseball champions of Camp Guild. The exhibition game between Troops II and V settled the aspiring Queen's Own scouts into the cellar class by a score of 8 to 3. The Palama boys proved too much for Troop V from the start.

No Honolulu Scouts need not worry over the beach guards at the camp. Yesterday the finals in the life-saving contest for a handsome silk flag presented by the Ideal Clothing Company, showed the scouts' ability to rescue a drowning person. The person in this case, however, proved to be a sack of sand. Troop V, represented by Robert Boyd, won the flag. The semi-finals were between two representatives from four troops, VII, V, I and II. The order of rescue was Boyd, Troop V; Jacobson and Wilder, Troop I; while Ikeole of Troop V finished in fourth place. Thirty-two boys entered the contest.

The exhibition drill for the John Guild cup will be staged this evening just after flag-down, when Commander Hayward will review the troops and hand in his decision. The exhibition drill will be followed by the grand review of the week.

Camp Fire Tonight. The "big girls" are coming around the big camp fire tonight. "Pop" Hutton has been holding "kopi" sessions in the woods and has nothing to say at all, which is taken as an indication that there will be a big, lively program.

All preparations will be issued to night for the "tents down" early tomorrow morning. Camp will be broken at 6:30 and the homeward-bound bugle will be sounded at 8 o'clock. Four hours will be allowed for the hike to the Pali, where machines will take the scouts to Honolulu.

Visitors Last Night. Camp Guild entertained visitors last night. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimball of Haleiwa hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Towse, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hall and Miss Perkins of Honolulu attended evening colors and were taken through an inspection of the 78 tents. They returned to the city last night.

HONOLULU WILL ENTER CREWS IN REGATTA EVENTS

Honolulu Yacht Club crews will row in the regatta races September 16. Early this week the club decided to withdraw on account of lack of oars, but there was much scurrying around on the part of the members of the Honolulu and the other boat clubs and as a result enough oars have been secured to pull a barge.

The Honolulu club ordered oars from the coast some time ago, but owing to the failure to receive them decided to withdraw its entries. Word has been received that the oars will arrive early next week, and although greatly handicapped by the lack of practice, the Honolulu crews will enter every event on the harbor. Members of the club are satisfied that the crews will make a good showing, despite the obstacles that have been met.

LOCAL POLICE LEARN NOTHING NEW AS TO MURDER OF COOPER

No new developments on the murder of George O. Cooper of Hanalei, Maui, have been received by Sheriff Rose or High Sheriff Jarrett, although the local police have had inquiries concerning certain suspects. Whether the Japanese reported arrested on Maui is the John Ginza about whom Arthur McDuffie, detective chief, received an inquiry Thursday, is not known.

Several possible causes for the murder have been suggested to the authorities and are being investigated.

Divorces From Consul Illegal, Mean Deporting

No New Wives Can Be Imported For Japanese Who Ignore U. S. Divorce Laws

Divorces obtained here under Japanese laws by Japanese through Japanese officials residing in Honolulu will not be recognized by U. S. immigration authorities at this port, and any attempts by the men thus divorced to bring in new wives will be frustrated by deportation of the picture brides.

This decision has been made effective by the federal immigration authorities in Honolulu, it was learned today, and will put a stop to securing divorces in Japan through Japanese officials here in disregard of American laws. Many Japanese now secure divorces from the territorial courts, and these, as they are legal, will not be affected. All Japanese here are subject to American law.

Recently several cases in which Japanese of the territory have secured divorces from their wives by having the suits filed and the decree secured in Japan through Japanese officials here, and have afterward brought new wives to Hawaii from Japan have come to the attention of immigration authorities, who have decided to put a stop to the practice. This week the case of Asaki was the deciding one. The picture bride he imported here to become wife number 2 after he secured a divorce under Japanese laws, will be deported on the first boat to the Orient, the Nippon Maru, due here September 16 from San Francisco to sail the same afternoon for Japan.

Asaki obtained a divorce here in 1911, securing it from Japanese government representatives in Honolulu, who filed the suit for him in Japan. The Honolulu courts were disregarded. In 1913 his divorced wife was deported by federal immigration authorities because she had become an immoral person, and was thus classed as an undesirable alien.

A short time ago Asaki wrote to Japan for a new wife. A picture bride was sent him. She arrived on a recent steamer, but has been detained and will be deported, as Asaki's divorce is not valid, never having been secured in the territorial courts, but through Japanese officials here disregarding American laws. The would-be bride is now at the immigration station, and Asaki will continue wifeless until he secures a legal divorce from the local courts permitting him to remarry.

TUBERCULOSIS CASES LESS THAN LAST YEAR

Eighty-seven cases of tuberculosis this year for the months of July and August against 130 in the same time last year is the record shown by the anti-tuberculosis bureau of the board of health in the files just issued.

While there were only 28 per cent of 794 cases under supervision in 1914 there are today 69 per cent of 1061 cases, which shows how the Bureau's work has increased in the last two years. Today's files show that the majority of cases are among persons born in the islands.

School children registered during the last school investigation have been reexamined and their physical condition found to be so much improved as a result of recent supervision that a great majority of them will be returned this year. They will be kept under observation by the health officials for some time yet, however, it was said today.

30 CATERPILLAR TRACTORS TO BE SENT TO HAWAII

Thirty new caterpillar tractors for the 9th Field Artillery—six tractors for each of the five batteries of that organization—will be ordered for use here, according to announcement made today by Maj. Charles G. Mettler, ordnance officer of the Hawaiian Department. In addition to this there will be six trucks for each of the five batteries and such other trucks as are necessary to replace battery and store wagons.

They will be of the same issue as the three caterpillar tractors that arrived some weeks ago, and which have proved such a success in the demonstrations through which they were put. Maj. Mettler stated today that each of the big trucks alone will have a capacity of 5000 pounds.

GOVERNOR ILL; KALAKAUA DAY DECISION WAITS

Whether Kalakaua Day, November 16, will be a legal holiday or simply observed by the people as they see fit, has not been decided.

In a recent letter to the civic organization Governor Pinkham said he was in favor of making it a holiday, but wished to hear expressions from the public first. He raised the point that a holiday would not interfere with people who drew monthly salaries, but it might seriously affect those who were paid by the day. As the governor is ill it has been impossible for different organizations to meet him and discuss the situation and the question is waiting his return.

COURT COMMITS LONOKAPU UPON MURDER CHARGE

H. K. Lonokapu, accused of murdering Sam Kaluahine on Asylum road, near School street, August 30, was given a preliminary hearing in the police court this morning and committed to the circuit court.

Police Surgeon R. G. Ayer told the nature of the wound, a hole from one bullet, which caused the death. Sam Kellinui, the only eyewitness to the shooting, was the principal witness. Attorney William Sheldon and William Rawlins represented the defense. Attorney Chillingworth was prosecutor.

Kellinui told the same story that was related at the coroner's inquest, i. e., that Lonokapu and Kaluahine had both been drinking heavily and became involved in a discussion of the Bible; that Lonokapu got a revolver and Kaluahine took up another object; that there was a struggle and three shots fired, one of which struck the victim.
